Safety Tips and Guidelines

Our kitchen provides one of the basics of life, a nourishing meal for disadvantaged members of the community. In the same vein, the kitchen is one of the easiest places in which bacteria can spread. It can be present on any surface, food or on our hands. As such, safety issues regarding serving meals cannot be reiterated often enough.

Therefore, here are a few pointers so that we may safely serve food:

- Wash hands thoroughly and often.
- Utilize, at all times, the gloves, hair nets and aprons that are provided.
- Avoid cross contamination e.g. disposing of an item in the bin and not washing hands before returning to serve the meal.
- Avoid sneezing, coughing or excessive speaking around/over the food.

Mishandled food can cause very serious consequences for all and it is for these reasons we need to be especially careful when serving food to large groups.

Please remember to:

- Wash & put away trays, pots and pans.
- Clean kitchen, including the sink, stove and all serving areas.

Finally, this is an important position and we depend on having your support. If you are unable to make your scheduled time period, please notify Volunteer Program Manager at least one day in advance.
